This course is intended for those who investigate incidents such as Child & Family protection workers, those working in the insurance industry, harassment investigators, or any others who have a role in investigating incidents.

It combines effective cognitive interviewing, notetaking, report writing to ensure that investigators are confident and well equipped to carry out their roles while not exposing your organization to potential liability.

Leadership Workshop (1 day)

This workshop is jam packed with invaluable lessons for new or seasoned leaders. Among the many topics covered, are workplace culture, communications, performance management, critical and strategic thinking, and resilience.

Our instructors are extremely dynamic and share perspectives and experience that will improve and enhance anyone's leadership abilities.

Management Workshop (1 day)

Our management workshop prepares supervisors for the next level and there is also tremendous value to those currently in managerial roles.

Our instructors have decades of experience and success and years of instructing. Media/Social Media, Strategic Planning, Policy Development, Quality Assurance and Efficiency are among the lessons covered in this jam packed workshop.

Leadership & Management Workshop (2 days)

Combining the Leadership and Management Workshops represents the best value to your organization and the most impactful learning experience.

Feedback has been incredibly positive and even the most seasoned leaders enjoy this course.

Media Relations (1 day)

This course enhances students' understanding of how media works behind the scenes and covers important aspects such as 'proactive vs reactive' approaches, writing an effective press release, giving a TV interview, and creative strategies.

Our instructor has decades of intense and sensitive media relations experience and has taught media relations for many years.

Public Speaking (1 day)

This course can take someone who fears public speaking and build their confidence and competence to help them to flourish in this important area.

Our instructors have been effectively public speaking for decades, with overwhelmingly positive feedback and they instruct this in a fun, non-threatening manner that ensures successful outcomes.
